

Welcome to the 2017

West Virginia Pumpkin Festival

The West Virginia Pumpkin Festival has grown from its inception in 1986 into one of the state's finest annual events. Each October, more than 40,000 people travel to Milton to participate in our celebration of the pumpkin harvest.

During the first Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of October, the festival hosts a cultural array of activities for the entire family to enjoy. In addition to over 100 skilled artisans who display juried crafts, numerous special exhibits and demonstrations are presented throughout the festival. Master craftsmen share their expertise in areas such as blacksmithing, pottery making, quilting and woodworking along with many business booths.

Some of the area's finest musicians can also be found displaying their talent at the West Virginia Pumpkin Festival. Whether you enjoy bluegrass, traditional music, or quality contemporary artists, you'll be certain to find an abundance of music to enjoy during your stay at the festival.
